HUMIDITY RECORD.

Most Oppressive Weather Utah Has Ever Had-Interesting Comparisons.

Humid atmospheric conditions continue, but the local weather office states that as soon as the low barometrie pressure passes off, and high pressure comes in from the coast, this condition will disappear. The marked change, as poted on the evening humidity record, began on the 8th inst., when the percentage jumped from 11 to 24; then to 3t, while on the 12th inst., it was 37, and on the 14th inst, it was 48 per cent. The morning humidity record showed 54 per cent on the 13th inst., 55 on the and then dropped to 46 on the

The recent comparison in the "News" shows that this is far above the nurmal, and makes a record in the history of the local weather office. The weather, too, has been of the most oppressive character in the history of the bureau. The temperature is cooler today, yes terday's being high all over the country this state with thunder showers tonight and temorrow. There was anoth cipitation at Modena yesterday.

EAGLES SOARED HIGH.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles made a very creditable showing this noon, in the street parade prior to taking the train for Lagoon. There were 185 men in line, in column of twos, exclusive of the bands, and with Messra. Eber Hall, the bands, and with Messrs. Eber Hall, W. W. Hall and Hull as the mounted marshals of divisions. The Eagles were marshals of divisions. The Eagles were from Salt Lake, Bingham, Mercur and Ogden, the first being led by Held's band, and the others by the Mercur and Ogden bands. The musicians did well, and provided excellent martial music. and provided excellent martial music. The Sait Lake Eagles were preceded by their uniformed rank in blue shirts with white caps and pants, and with their elegant silken banner, made a pretty showing. All of those in the procession wore white caps and duck pants and carried light canes decorated with red, white and blue ribbons, and the marshals wore large sashes of the same colors. The paride was through the principal business streets, and hundreds of people stopped to witness it.

ROMNEY REUNION.

Large Gathering in Twentieth Ward Amusement Hall Last Night.

The reunion of the Romney family in the Twentieth ward Amusement hall last night was an affair long to be remembered. The interior of the hall was beautifully decorated, the stars and stripes predominating in the color scheme. Handsome rugs, tables and lounges were neatly and comfortably lounges were neatly and comfortably arranged for the convenience of those present, which, with the family, were nearly 200. Christensen's orchestra discoursed enlivening strains of music from the stage, and Franklin, served an elaborate luncheon in an adjoining room. The banqueting tables were beautifully spread, and the scene was a most picturesque one here as well as in the hall proper.

There was a touching incident at the close of the banquet, when Hishop Romney presented his oldest and youngest child and referred to some of his experiences from the earliest days of Salt Lake City, when his first child, Earbara Romney Folsom, was born on the southeast corner of the site of the Salt Lake Temple. The young wife and her new born babe had only a wagon box for shelter and an insufficient covering to protect them from the elent covering to protect them from the

A poem, composed by Luiu Greens Richards for the occusion, entitled "To a Veteran," was then read, and further remarks were made by Joseph S. Wells of the stake presidency George T. Odell, John C. Cutter, Henry Dinwoodey, W. W. Riter and Samuel W. Richards, Mr. Riter referred to an incident in the opening address, which was delivered by Heber Romney, the oldest son, who asked all of the children and grand-children to stand up and be counted. They did so and numbered 110. That was a picture, the speaker said, he would have liked President Rooseveit to look upon. The remainder of the program was substantially as published in last evening's "News," and consisted mainly of excellently rendered musical mainly of excellently rendered nusical numbers. UTAH COUNTY DEMOCRATS.

Precinct Primaries Will be Held Not Later Than Sept. 3-Other Business.

(Special to the "News.") Provo, Aug. 16 .- The meeting of the Democratic county committee was held here today to arrange for the county convention and other campaign mat-ters. It was decided to elect delegates to the state convention to be held in Salt Lake Sept. 8, at precinct pri-maries to be held not later than Sept. 3. The apportionment is one delegate for every 70 votes cast for W. H. King for congressman in 1902. At the same primaries the same number of dele-gates will be elected to the Fourth disotal of 64 delegates for the county in each convention. The date for holding the judicial convention has not been fixed. It will probably be held imme-diately after the state convention. It was decided to hold the county convention in Provo, Sept. 5. Delegates will be elected at primaries to be field not later than Sept. 10, one for every 12 votes cast for W. H. King in 1902, making about 3/5 delegates.

Chairman King was authorized to appoint a committee on organization. He appointed A. B. Morgan, chairman, and W. R. McBride, and will name other members later.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

The report that Millard county will send seven delegates to the state convention for Wells and two for Hammond is disputed today. The Cutler people received a telephone message from Fillmore this morning, which says that the facts are Cutler will have five f the delegates, and that the remaining bly a part for each.

The day passed without any important changes in the gubernatorial situation, which is, at this time, ab-sorbing the attention of all politicians. At Well's headquarters it was positively stated that the governor will have at least 80 out of the 125 votes of Salt Lake county. The Culler men, while they understand that the other candidates are going to cut a great figure, would not concede in this county more than 35 for each of them. Hammond's nost intimate friends claimed the se etary would enter the convention wi votes from this county than either

THE MORRIS FUNERAL.

Impressive Services Held at the Family Residence-Tributes of Respect.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Albert C. Morris were held at the family residence, 41 Canyon road, yesterday afternoon, and so great was the press of relatives and friends of the deceased that it became necessary for a large number to remain on the lawns and grounds of the house and that ad-joining. The services were in the hands of Bishop George H. Taylor of the Fourteenth ward. One of the features was the large collection of floral tributes that covered the casket and were distributed around the room. The services were opened by a selec-

The services were opened by a selection by the Fifteenth ward quartet, followed by a prayer offered by Elder Willard Done. Mrs. Lizzie Thomas Edward sang, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" in a touching manner, prior to the addresses which followed.

The first speaker was Elder Ben R. Eldredge, who was president of the London conference during a portion of the time when deceased was laboring in the mission field in Kent. The speaker dwelt at length upon the sterling qualities of Elder Morris as exhibited in the mission field and the good work accomplished by him. One striking thing that impressed the speaker was the great love the young man exhibited for his mother.

Elder Victor P. Wells, who was the next speaker, spoke along similar lines and gave instances of the powers manifested by deceased in the mission field. The speaker stated that he always entertained a great love for the young man who made a splendid missionary.

The errors and follies of life would not oblite ate the good acts performed, he asserted and God would not judge by errors committed alone. Morgan, the funeral cortege left for the city cemetery where the quartet once more sang, and where the grave was delicated by Bishop George R. Taylor.
